Captivating Kelp Forests (New Release)

Written by Emma Rosen and Illustrated by Rhiannon Thomas

Flowing rhymes and beautiful watercolours that show how important kelp is to the creatures that live in it...and to us!

Imagine that you're floating
On a current in the sea.
Swaying underneath you
There's a forest of tall leaves.

Drift through a Captivating Kelp Forest.
What is kelp? What creatures make kelp forests their home?
Why do we need to protect these underwater forests?

Author Emma Rosen and artist Rhiannon Thomas team up for another beautiful rhyming story that children will want to read again and again.

Launching on 16th February at the Isle of Wight Story Festival

Secret Seagrass Meadows

Written by Emma Rosen and Illustrated by Rhiannon Thomas

Rhythmic rhymes and vibrant watercolours that show how important seagrass is as a habitat and how it's being protected.

If you look out at the ocean
As you're standing on the shore,
Do you ever stop and wonder
What there could be to explore?

Discover the Secret Seagrass Meadows. What is seagrass? What creatures might you find hiding among the leaves? How are seagrass meadows being protected for the future?

With Emma Rosen's gentle rhymes and Rhiannon Thomas's coastal watercolours, children will love this beautiful story.

Sponsored by Natural England

"A positive story about caring for our oceans written by an author who knows what she's talking about."

"It is the kind of book you will remember all of your life, and want to share with your own children and grandchildren."

Milk and Cookies

Written by Emma Rosen and Illustrated by Rhiannon Thomas

Brightly-coloured illustrations of animals accompanying a conversation between an aunt and niece about how mammals feed their babies

Mummy takes Tilly (and some freshly baked cookies) to meet Uncle James and Auntie Grace's new baby. When Tilly first sees baby Ben she wonders why he's snuggled up so closely to Auntie Grace. Luckily, her aunt knows all sorts of funny facts about how different kinds of animals give their babies milk, which helps Tilly understand what breastfeeding is.

This is a heartwarming story for little ones to share with their families and it makes space for deeper conversations about what happens when a new baby comes along.

"We love this book in our house, the curriculum misses out how mammals feed their babies when the topic is covered at school"

"Such a beautiful book, from the illustrations to the story."

Lily the Limpet Gets Lost

Written by Emma Rosen and Illustrated by Evgeniia Blackery

A sweet story that explains what limpets are and highlights the importance of taking care of living things when visiting the beach.

Lily the limpet lives happily in a rock pool. When Billy and Gran go to the beach they accidentally take the stone she lives on. Join Lily as she tries to find her way home.

A beautiful seaside story.

"This is such a lovely little story with an important message to children who enjoy the seaside."

"Perfect picture book for summer days at the beach and rockpool explorers who love wildlife!"

Milk

Written by Emma Rosen

A breastfeeding memoir, interwoven with everything from the biology of lactation to the politics that impacts how we feed.

Emma Rosen assumed that breastfeeding would be easy. After all, it is the natural way for humans to feed our offspring and women have been doing it for millennia. Motherhood turned Emma's world upside down.

In this memoir, Emma tells her story, interwoven with everything she's learned about why, in our society, breastfeeding is far from easy. Milk is both emotional and heart-warming in the way that only a mother's story can be. It is a must-have book for all breastfeeding mothers and those supporting them.

"Thanks Emma for sharing your story, so beautifully written, and when I needed it most, it made me feel like I wasn't alone struggling with breastfeeding."

"A must-read for people thinking about becoming parents, and a "should-probably-read" for literally everyone else."
